

Child Safeguarding Statement

St John Ambulance Ireland is a National Volunteer Pre-Hospital Emergency Care Service provider and training institute, with local Divisions currently in Dublin, Cork, Cavan, Kildare, Limerick, Louth and Mayo.

Our adult membership provides our services locally, regionally, and nationally. Members aged 11-18 years – known as Cadets – are organised in “Cadet” Divisions where we provide training in emergency care practice and social activities. St John Ambulance Ireland, in accordance with our Code of Conduct and our legislative requirements, has agreed this Child Safeguarding Statement which is binding on all Members of the organisation.

The goal of St John Ambulance Ireland includes fostering and developing our Youth Divisions in all first aid provision and community care activities, providing emergency care treatments to children and the development of young adults to work with children in training and general organisational activities.

These activities are organised and promoted by dedicated volunteers at Divisional and National levels with the cooperation and support of an equally dedicated cohort of staff all of whom are committed to the safeguarding of children in our organisation – or who may come into our temporary care - as we seek to create a safe environment for young people in which to grow and develop.

St John Ambulance Ireland through our Policies are fully committed to adhering to all aspects of safeguarding and the aligned organisational procedures will ensure that we follow and maintain both best practice and legislative requirements. St John Ambulance recognises that the welfare of children must always come first, regardless of all other considerations. Children have a right to be heard, listened to and taken seriously. Our guiding principles are fully aligned with Children First 2015 legislation and are applicable to all our staff, & volunteers.
